Australia Conference Toolkit

CALL FOR PAPERS

Conference Call For Papers

Introduction

This year, the ASIS Victoria Australia Chapter will host the ASIS Australia Conference being held in Melbourne on Thursday 17 October 2019.

This prestigious conference aims to bring together leading academics, national security experts, security practitioners, researchers and government to exchange leading edge ideas, share their experiences and research results on all aspects of security and related topics. This is an excellent opportunity to network with like-minded people and enthusiasts.

ASIS International is global community for security professionals in excess of 35,000 members worldwide. ASIS International is dedicated to increasing the effectiveness and productivity of security professionals by developing educational programs and materials that address broad security interests.

Our members represent the industry from public and private sectors and organisations of all sizes. From entry-level managers to CSOs to CEOs, from security veterans to consultants, and those transitioning from law enforcement or the military, the ASIS community is global and diverse.

The ASIS International Australia Conference 2019 is the premier gathering of security professionals. The conference aims to provide an established platform for education and business exchange, addressing the key trends and issues facing security professionals locally and globally.

Objectives of the conference are:
1. Enhance knowledge of security leaders in areas of public safety
2. Understand recent developments in security risk management
3. Discuss innovative and successful security and risk practices
4. Contribute to new knowledge in the areas of security, safety and risk

Presentation Topics

We are seeking presentations with interesting content, challenging ideas that align with one or more of the below themes and sub-themes, and should focus on the opportunities, challenges and solutions that drives the industry forward.

The Conference Theme is "Security in a Rapidly Changing World"

Sub-Themes
- Policing
- Enterprise Security Risk Management
- Psychosocial
- Legislation

We are interested in hearing case studies or white papers to be presented with thought provoking and stimulating ideas and concepts, future aspirations and development for our industry, that address these areas.

The topic and its presentation must not directly or overtly promote proprietary technology or service offerings. In order to ensure the integrity of the conference and the information presented to conference delegates we ask that both your presentation and paper remain purely information based with little or no reference to your organisation. Papers and presentations that are seen to be advertorials will not be selected by the Conference Organising Committee.

Conference Call For Papers

What we need

To be considered for a speaker slot at the ASIS Australia Conference 2019, the Conference Organising Committee invites you to submit abstracts for individual presentations by email to events@asisvictoria.org.au providing us with the following information:

1. Contact information for you and any joint speaker you require for your presentation. (email, phone, twitter and "preferred name" when referencing you in announcements and schedule.);

2. The Presentation Title please name your talk as this will make it easier to reference it;

3. A short description (<6 sentences) of who you are (bio) that we are permitted to publish in case of your acceptance;

4. A short description (<6 sentences) of your content that we are permitted to publish in case of your acceptance;

5. A longer description of your content for our understanding of your research material and presentation format for our consideration. This could contain any papers, articles or presentation material you have created that will help us understand your content;

6. References, if any, to other talks you have given, articles published or videos of previous presentations for our consideration;

7. The location you would be traveling from;

8. Technical requirements for making your presentation;

9. The preferred length and possible lengths of your talk 40 + 5 min Q&A;

10. Has this presentation been given before somewhere?

11. Are you willing to have your talk recorded?

We are not accepting any vendor pitches or corporate cheerleading talks. You are welcome to talk briefly about what your company does or use corporate slides. However, your talk must focus on sharing your ideas, experience and knowledge with the community, and not selling products and services.

What you receive

As an accepted speaker you will be provided with the following:

- Complimentary access to the ASIS Australia Conference 2019, including catering supplied on the day;

- One (1) complimentary nights' accommodation in Melbourne at the Conference organisers preferred accommodation;

- Reimbursement of any interstate flights, to the value of $550.00;

- One (1) complimentary ticket to the 2019 Outstanding Security Performance Awards OSPA's being held in the evening of 17 October 2019.

Conference Call For Papers

The Schedule

The submission deadlines are:
1. Pre-acceptance round 1:   31 March 2019
2. Pre-acceptance round 2:   30 April 2019
3. Final Submission Deadline: 30 May 2019

To ensure your submission is considered it must be made before 31 March 2019 and to increase your chances of being selected as a speaker it is recommended that your submission is made before 30 April 2019. Acceptance rounds usually takes less than a week to complete.

As a speaker you will be notified that we have received your submission and when we have come to a decision regarding your participation.

Submission Terms and Conditions

1. Presentation must be presented by the named presenter, proxies and replacement speakers are not permitted except for unforeseeable circumstances and illness and must be approved by the conference committee;

2. The Conference Organising Committee reserve the right to allocate presentation time and format;

3. Presentations must be provided in their final format ready for presenting three weeks prior to the Australia Conference, ensuring approval is received from the Conference Organising Committee to proceed;

4. Successful presenters provide consent for photographs to be taken during their presentation at the Conference.